

FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM 2021

INFORMATION PACKET

OMLA
One Million Leaders Africa

OMLA intends to harness the positive energy of youth and help train a whole new generation of leaders in Africa who can help put the continent on a more sustainable course.

By 2030, we will have raised one million young leaders who will be CONNECTED, INSPIRED, and EMPOWERED to transform Africa starting from their local communities.

THE OMLA FELLOWSHIP...

...is the beginning of a journey towards transforming Africa by Africans.

...is equipping young leaders with practical skills in transformative and sustainable leadership, as well as tools for innovation and social entrepreneurship, which will allow them to become trainers of new leaders in their respective countries.

...will help to raise one million Nelson Mandelas on the continent by 2030.

FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM 2021

OMLA fellows are trained in
Leadership for a better future,
Sustainability, Social innovation and social entrepreneurship.

Fellow's call

Twenty (20) OMLA Fellows are selected from across Africa. We look for young people who aspire to build a movement of youth working for change in communities across Africa.

Fellow's training

They attend two (2) months of virtual training.

Fellow's challenge

After the training, each fellow will train and mentor fifty (50) young people (OMLA Stars) - who aspire to create social projects within their communities for nine (9) months.

Stars training

During the nine (9) months of OMLA Stars training and community projects, fellows will attend virtual OMLA Masterclasses and complete monthly assignments.

Stars challenge

Fifty (50) OMLA Stars under the mentorship of each fellow will be grouped into teams with ten (10) stars per team, making a total of five (5) star teams under a fellow. Each of these Star teams will receive a grant for the community projects they will undertake and recruit 50 young people in their communities called STARLETS to be trained as well.

Fellow's support

The fellows receive monthly running costs during the fellowship year and a stipend at the end of the pilot program.

Alumni community

At the end of the Fellowship Year, the Fellows, Stars and the Starlets become part of a lifelong OMLA Alumni community that offers several opportunities.

WHO BECOMES OMLA FELLOW AND HOW WE CHOOSE THEM?

We are looking for young Africans...

...Who have an undying passion to transform Africa – meaning that in everything you do you act with the OMLA core values – I AM SET to transform Africa!

Integrity

You are an ethical social change maker.

Sustainability

You are not borrowing resources from future generations but rather conserving resources for the utmost good of all.

Accountability

You are accountable for the change you want to see in your community and Africa

Excellence

You do not only want Africa to survive but excel.

Modesty (humility):

You carry the humility of Nelson Mandela – he had extraordinary self-confidence and pride, not in individual achievement but collective achievement.

Teamwork

You bring other young Africans together to make change happen on the continent. Work well with others who have very different perspectives and experiences

...Who have led a social change project that is, for a sustained period, you have:

- Recognized a social problem in your community.
- Explored the social problem to understand its root causes and come up with a solution.
- Developed a team and worked with them to create a plan for solving the problem
- Created a social project with a solution that birthed meaningful and measurable change in the society. Please understand that a successful social project does not have to be big in terms of size or impact.

WHO BECOMES OMLA FELLOW AND HOW WE CHOOSE THEM?

We are looking for young Africans...

...Who is a youth leader that:

- Has confidence and can mobilize, bond with, and build relationships with young people.
- Can communicate clearly and engagingly with young people.
- Has a track record of empowering and inspiring other young people to become leaders themselves.

...Who can lead OMLA training and project in their region

– which implies you will:

- Recruit, train, and mentor (using the OMLA Fellow's Manual) 50 young people in your region for 9 months.
- Coordinate the social projects to be started and run by these young people, also process and manage mini-grants allocated to the OMLA Stars.
- Work with other OMLA fellows from across the continent to implement OMLA activities.
- Can successfully manage multiple projects, prioritizing and paying attention to detail.
- Be creative, flexible, and open to change.
- Be comfortable with doing your work online as well: for example, you will have to register your OMLA Stars on the OMLA portal and upload several assignments.
